Immediate Release
September 28, 2023

On September 27, 2023 at approximately 3:15PM, deputies responded to the 7900 block of Camp Town Road for a reported shooting. Upon arrival, they found a 22-year-old male with a gunshot wound to his upper extremity. Deputies immediately rendered lifesaving care to the victim until he was transported to a local hospital where he underwent surgery. During the initial interview with the victim and witnesses, it was reported that a white Dodge Charger with two male occupants drove by the victim who was standing outside and began shooting at him. The vehicle along with the suspects fled the area prior to law enforcement arrival.

During the investigation, a person of interest was developed. While detectives were following up on leads, the person of interest, Rhashean Anderson, 20 years of age turned himself into detectives later that evening. Mr. Anderson admitted to shooting the victim during a drug transaction. Mr. Anderson was cooperative with detectives during the interview. Mr. Anderson was charged with aggravated malicious wounding. Anderson has been held at the Rappahannock Regional Jail under no bond.

The investigation is continuing to determine the passenger identity and additional charges could be forthcoming.
